

The Wild Robot: Nature's Tales

Storytelling Adventure: Weave Tales from the Wild

Channel the spirit of Roz and her animal friends! In this storytelling adventure, you'll use the natural world around you as inspiration to create and share imaginative tales. Explore your local outdoors and let nature guide your creativity!

What You'll Need

- Notebook and pencil
- A bag for collecting natural objects (optional)
- Your imagination!
- A friend or family member to share stories with

Story Starter Ideas

- "The day the trees decided to walk..."
- "A robot's first spring in the forest..."
- "The secret life of the pond..."
- "When the flowers learned to sing..."

Storytelling Tips

1. Use all your senses - what can you see, hear, smell, or feel?
2. Start with "What if..." questions to spark ideas
3. Give personalities to plants, animals, or even rocks!
4. Think about the adventures Roz might have in this environment
5. Remember, there are no wrong ideas in storytelling

Your Storytelling Mission

1. Find a comfortable spot in nature - a park, garden, or woodland
2. Spend 10 minutes quietly observing your surroundings
3. Choose three natural elements as your story inspiration (e.g., a tall tree, a buzzing bee, a smooth pebble)
4. Create a short story that includes these elements
5. Share your story with a friend or family member
6. Listen to their story and discuss how nature inspired you both

Roz's Survival Log

Like Roz learning to communicate with animals, record your storytelling experience:

- Date and location of your storytelling adventure
- Natural elements that inspired your story
- A brief summary of your tale
- How sharing stories made you feel
- New words or ideas you discovered

Reminder!

Remember to respect nature as you explore. Don't disturb wildlife or damage plants. Leave no trace, taking only memories (and maybe a few photos) with you!
